BLACK IRON DAYS

Hartwick Pines State Park, the largest state park in the lower peninsula, will host "Black Iron Days" Saturday and Sunday, August 24-25. A large group of craftsmen will display blacksmith skills and other turn of the century crafts. Old-fashioned music entertainment is also featured during the weekend.

Ohio Armored Cavalry Training Here

The 107th Armored Cavalry Regiment, of the Ohio Army National Guard, are at Camp Grayling for two weeks of annual training. The 107th is commanded by Colonel Mark V. Ryan. Including personnel and troops from each of its four squadrons, the Regiment numbers 2,346 soldiers in Grayling. A similar number of the Regiment's total strength of 4,500 soldiers, are training at other installations, including Gowen Field, Idaho.

Headquartered in Cleveland, Ohio, the 107th Armored Cavalry Regiment has squadrons based in Bluefield, West Virginia, as well as the Akron-Canton areas of Ohio. Other elements of the Ohio National Guard are present to support training.

Ohio Governor George Voinovich described the Armored Cavalry Regiment as unique. In a letter to President Bush, he stated, "They are the only Army combat units below division level which contain armor, artillery, combat aviation, and logistical support in a single package. The 107th ACR is equipped with the same modern weapons systems as their active component counterparts, including the M1 tank and the TOW missile Cobra attack helicopter. They are the 'point of the sword' for the corps commander."

Unit training during the first ten days of their two-week encampment will include practice field exercises in which each unit will act as both the friendly and enemy forces. MILES equipment, with low-powered lasers, enable the soldiers to engage and "shoot" the opposing forces without using live ammunition. Each unit also has an appointed environmental protection officer to ensure compliance with all state and local regulations on trash disposal and other environmental concerns.

The 107th ACR "owns" the M1 main battle tanks that arrived in Grayling in the spring of 1990, the same type of tanks that successfully

Two Saturdays A Month Recycling Bins Returning To Grayling Township Site

By Irene Pettyjohn

Recycling bins are being returned to the Grayling Township Transfer Station on North Down River Road, at least on a limited basis.

Crawford/Otsego Landfill executive director John Miller said the county's recycling center will be placing the bins at the transfer station two days each month to enable residents the opportunity to continue their recycling efforts. A recycling center employee will be on site two Saturdays a month, between 8 a.m. and 1 p.m., to supervise use of the bins and ensure that past abuses are not repeated. These Saturdays are: August 10 & 24, September 14 & 28, October 12 & 26, November 9 & 23, and December 14 & 28.

"At least people who want to recycle will be able to do so," said Miller.

The only acceptable recycling items are metals, corrugated cardboard, newsprint, and plastic jugs. All unacceptable items will be refused.

"We'll be running the program for the rest of this year and then see how things go," said Miller. "It's too bad the bins had to be removed in the first place," he continued. "A lot of good people used the bins as they were intended, but misuse by others made it necessary for the township authorities to have the bins removed."

Miller said Gaylord was having the same problem at the Gaylord Opportunity Center.

"People were leaving everything from mattresses to refrigerators," he explained. Like Grayling, Gaylord's recycling bins will be open only two days a month. A recycling center employee also will be present to check all drop-offs. Miller said there is some talk that Gaylord may begin charging an annual $25 surtax for recycling.

"I would not like to see that happen," Miller said. "Twenty-five dollars doesn't sound like much, but together with other taxes and charges people have to pay, it adds up. The answer," he continued, "is to get people to clean-up their act, then there wouldn't be any need for this added cost."

The Crawford/Otsego Landfill is one of only a few landfills in northern Michigan still offering recycling services. Miller said Emmet County has phased out all recycling and Charlevoix and Kalkaska are phasing out their programs.

"There is one recycling center in Traverse City and it doesn't do 25% of the recycling we do," said Miller. "Many counties do not know what to do with the recycled materials after they collect it." A few counties bring their recycled items to the Crawford/Otsego Recycling Center. The center charges $2.50 per yard for out-of-county recycled trash. There is no charge for in-county recycled trash.

Miller summed up the problems associated with the recycling effort by telling the story of a gentleman who stopped him one day to tell Miller how much he had come to appreciate recycling.

"It's really saved me a lot of money," the man said. "I recycle so much I was even able to cancel my curbside service." The man went on to tell Miller that after he sorted all his recyclable items he only had one bag of throw-away garbage left each week.

"What do you do with that bag?" Miller asked the man.

"Oh, I just throw it in the same container with my recyclables," he said.

Miller paused. "And there you have it," he said. "The man really thought he was doing a good job."

78-Year-Old Woman Drowns Saturday At K. P. Lake

Elizabeth Wheatley, 78, of Romeo, drowned in K.P. Lake in Lovells Township on Saturday, August 3, as a result of a boating accident.

The accident occurred at about 12:43 p.m. while Elizabeth Wheatley and her husband, Clifford, were fishing in a small boat on the north end of the lake. As Clifford Wheatley attempted to move from one side of the boat to the other, the boat capsized. Clifford Wheatley was able to find a personal flotation device, but his wife did not. Divers from the Crawford County Sheriff Dept. recovered Elizabeth Wheatley's body in about 15 feet of water shortly after the accident occurred.

The Crawford County Sheriff Dept.'s diving team was assisted by the department's road and marine patrol, Frederic Ambulance, and North Flight EMS.

Let's Talk About It

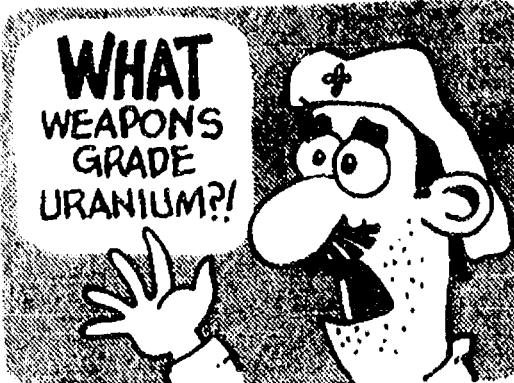

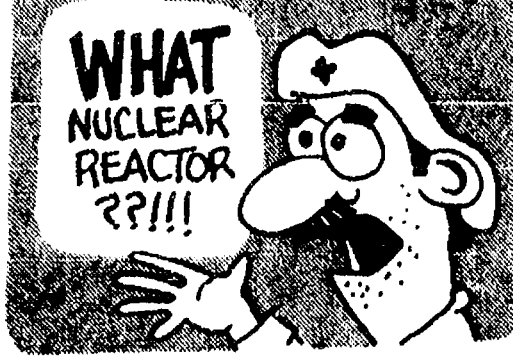

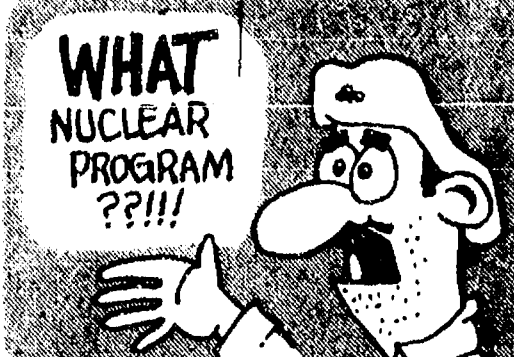

By Joe Murphy

Dear Friends,

This will be the old man's swan song, after nearly four years of Verse Worse and two plus years of Let's Talk About It, I feel it's time for the old man to hang it up. I have enjoyed my journeys down memory lane in search of material to write about. I hope at least a few of you have enjoyed my efforts. I guess I have made too many trips to the well and it's running dry. I have enjoyed doing it and when a kind reader has spoken kindly of my efforts, I was proud as a peacock. Still, I feel it's time for the old man to step aside and give someone else their chance. Jon and the Avalanche staff have been most kind in allowing me to publish all of those columns in their paper. I still intend to write a little poetry and have a book published now and then. In fact I have started to plan on bringing out a book this fall with Christmas poems to help the Christmas Basket program.

Again I wish to say Thank You to those kind folks who offered an encouraging word about my writing. I wish you, my kind readers, all best wishes and if enough of you feel I'm wrong to quit, I might reconsider it.

Letters To The Editor

Reader Wonders Who's Buying Our Recycled Items

I am writing this letter to express my views on the recycling efforts of the Crawford-Otsego Landfill. I have tried several times to obtain the names of persons or organizations responsible for picking up our newspapers, cardboard, plastic, and metal after they have been made ready for recycling. I've always been given the run around.

This leads me to believe that the stuff I so very carefully clean, crush and separate is just thrown into the pit known as the landfill.

Another reason I believe this is happening is because in a June issue of the Avalanche there was the article concerning the removal of the bins at the Refuse Station. Mentioned in the article was the fact that the solid waste volume had not decreased even with the recycling. Of course it wouldn't decrease if everything is still being dumped that is supposed to be recycled.

When Glen's Market started collecting polystyrene for recycling, one of the first things they told us was who was coming to pick it up to turn it into insulation. They said the need to reduce solid waste. They didn't start doing it to trick us into something that was never going to materialize. My belief is that all of us have been tricked by those in charge at the landfill. The biggest give-away of all is that you just don't put a recycling center in with a landfill. It becomes too easy to trash the stuff.

I, and am sure others, would appreciate a reply from someone involved with the Crawford-Otsego Recyclers. Just please list the buyers for our recycling items in the Avalanche, and prove me wrong. Until that is done I cannot urge recycling to the people of Crawford County.

Local Group's Efforts With Parade Appreciated

To the Grayling Promotional Association:

Just a word of appreciation to this fine group for the tremendous job you have done in promoting and organizing the AuSable River (Milltown) parade on July 27. That effort presented a lot of work, and your group deserves a lot

Are senators worth more pay?

THE SECOND CONGRESSIONAL pay shoe has now dropped.

In an unannounced late-night session, with no advance public notice so anti-pay raise forces could not muster a public outcry until too late, the United States Senate voted its members a $23,200 pay increase.

Any why not? Isn't the work of a senator worth as much as the work of a member of the federal House of Representatives? Of course it is.

And don't House members now gather in $125,100 a year in comparison with the senators' measly $101,900 a year? Sure they do.

Is that fair? Of course not. In Congress, members of both houses have traditionally been paid the same, which is probably as it should be. Like pay for like work.

But when House members voted themselves a raise in November 1989, up to $125,100 a year, senators decided not to follow suit. Instead, the senators decided they could continue to keep speaking fees up to $23,000 a year, while House members agreed to turn them down. Almost two-thirds of the senators have accepted outside honoraria to supplement their government pay.

Now things will be back to even on both sides of the capitol. It's probably just as well.

THE SENATE EQUALIZING pay hike was inevitable. There was no way the senators would permit long-range the so-called lower house to be paid more than the so-called upper chamber.

So they had to give up outside honoraria. Big deal. That was another change that was coming, sooner or later. The public mania for campaign reform made that change certain. It made sense for the senators to get something back if they had to give up something.

The vote was 53-45, which was close as most senate votes go.

But this one was wired going in. Votes were counted carefully in advance. Pro-pay hikers made certain there were enough "yes" votes to pass. In addition, they made sure there was a majority in each party voting for higher pay; that way Democrats couldn't accuse Republicans of a raid on the treasury, and vice versa.

The pay hike certainly will be a part of the 1992 Senate campaign, when one-third of the Senate faces election. But only eight members expected to run for reelection in 1992 voted for more money. By the time most of the pro-pay raise senators face the voters again, this year's vote will be ancient history.

SEN. ROBERT BYRD of West Virginia, former Democratic Senate leader and one of the chief architects of the pay raise drama, used the cobwebbed comparison of government with private business, emphasizing the important role of the lawmaker.

"This . . . is the most important board of directors of any business in the world," Mr. Byrd proclaimed, in arguing for higher salaries.

The same analogy is one of the favorites of pay raise advocates in the state legislature and other legislative bodies, too.

But does the shoe fit?

For example, could any business survive with a "board of directors" of 100 Senate members plus a second board of another 435 House member directors, all of whom are full-time policy makers with large and talented staffs at their beck and call?

Could any business prosper when a good portion of the "board of directors" (more than half, in the case of Congress), opposed the selection of the company's management—that is, the President and his administration—and is philosophically committed to try to get rid of them at the next general election?

Almost coincidentally with the Senate pay hike appeared the news that the federal budget deficit for next year is expected to be $348.5 billion—by far the largest in the nation's history; the national debt is ten times that large.

Could any real business—except one which prints its own money—stay alive with a record such as that? How long would Sen. Byrd's "board of directors" survive out in the real business world?

" . . . the most important board of directors of any business in the world . . . ?"

Nonsense. The analogy just does not fit. United States senators may be a lot of things, but talented business directors worth $125,100 a year is not one of them.

Your Social Security

If you're on Medicare and don't have much income, you should know about a program that could save you at least $358 each year if you're eligible. It's called the "Qualified Medicare Beneficiary" program, and it can help pay for your monthly Medicare premiums, your deductibles, and co-insurance.

Recent studies show that many people who may qualify for this benefit have not yet applied for it, and are still having Medicare premiums deducted from their monthly Social Security checks. The premium is $29.90 per month for most people.

To qualify for this special program, you must be age 65 or older, or disabled, and your income and resources (countable assets) must be low enough for you to meet the limits set by the Michigan Department of Social Services, the agency that handles the Medicaid program. The 1991 income limits are $552 per month for an individual, and $740 per month for a couple. There are limits on countable assets also.

If you qualify for this program, the monthly Medicare premium will no longer be withheld from your Social Security check. It will be paid for by the State of Michigan, as will some of the other Medicare charges you've been paying for until now.

For more information about Medicaid, or this "Qualified Medicare Beneficiary" program, contact your local Department of Social Services office.

Of course, cash benefits and full Medicaid coverage may be available through the Supplemental Security Income (SSI) program for individuals whose income and countable resources are even less than the limits set for the Qualified Medicare Beneficiary program. For information about SSI, contact Social Security. Toll-free phone service is available weekdays from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., at 1-800-234-5772. In Traverse City, the number is (616) 946-8361, and office hours are 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., weekdays.

A representative is at the County Building in Grayling on the first and third Tuesday of each month, 10:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The last thing you need now is a problem with insurance that doesn't offer guaranteed home replacement cost coverage.

Insurance means 100% assurance, right? Wrong. Sometimes it doesn't. Although you wouldn't live in half of a home—that might be all the limits of coverage your present home insurance gives you.

Auto-Owners doesn't agree with that. They believe that homeowners insurance should ideally protect and replace 100% of your home. Because anything less, isn't 100% protection.

The Guaranteed Home Replacement Cost Coverage is from your "no problem" Auto-Owners agent. Ask him if your home qualifies, and find out what 100% peace-of-mind is all about.

Congratulations to Jeannette Kitchen and Buzz Stephenson who were married on Saturday, August 3, 1991.

Tom Feldhauser and his son, Jon, of Atwater, California, spent three weeks in the Grayling area visiting relatives and friends.

Sandy Fleming, sons, Michael and William, of Watertown, Wisconsin, spent several days recently in Grayling visiting friends. Sandy was a guest of Pam Williams and the boys stayed with some of their friends.

In 1969 he became a Marketing Representative in Minnesota. He returned to Lansing in 1971 and held various managerial positions in the Lansing Branch and Home Office underwriting until his Peoria assignment.

Senior Citizens Attend Camp AuSable

Senior Citizens have come to Camp AuSable. Their program and activities are being coordinated by Harold Jewkes. Spiritual leader is Paul Pallendini.

Before Reveille, those interested, go on a Nature Lore Walk. Sights and sounds may include deer, squirrels, chipmunks, birds such as wild turkeys, mallard ducks, great blue heron, blue jays, robins, goldfinches, chickadees, nut hatches, kingfisher, and gulls. Off in the distance may be heard the rat-a-tat-tat of the downy, hairy, or pileated woodpeckers, yellow bellied sapsuckers and ruby-throated hummingbirds may be seen sharing the same area of a birch tree for food. Lake Shellenbarger, at this hour, can be like a mirror.

Trails beckon where campers see and feel red, white, and jack pines, oaks, maples, and birch trees. The fruit bearing June berry shrubs are almost fruitless after being visited by the cedar waxwings.

Three other groups are camping this week. They are Aquatics, ATVs, and Youth Horsepack.

Sunday morning campers leave and two more groups come. They are Gymnastics and the blind or sightless people.

Country Scenes

Those old scenes from yesterday
Brings a lot of fond memories to mind
Of another day and another way
And of friends and neighbors dear and kind

Of those days when time moved at a slower pace
And no one was in a hurry
They had the time to chat for an hour or two
And that lost time caused not a worry

They had time to share and time to care
And always had time to lend a helping hand
When you were in need they would pay heed
They always seemed to understand

That more tranquil time of that the artist paints
Or the poet tries to capture in rhyme
Touches the hearts of those who have sweet memories
Of another day another time

The world today has turned away
From that sweet slow life of yore
In life's wild flurry folks have to hurry
And have no time to just chat anymore

Maybe some day in a land far away
We will all gather once more
Far from the struggle and strife of today's life
On heaven's beautiful shore

The Meadows Of Grayling News

Many people helped make the trip possible including: Roger and B. J. Barber who first approached me with the idea and belong to the "Friends of Hartwick Pines" group who provided the funds for the transportation. To the excellent Dial-A-Ride driver.

Jennell Cousins, whose patience and expertise were a large factor in making this trip a great success. To all the volunteers who were on hand to push wheelchairs and see that the folks had a good time, to the Park staff for letting our bus drive up close to the area where all the activities were going on, to the activity assistant, Shirlee Phillips, without whose help we could never have gone on the trip. To the staff at the Meadows for having everyone ready and working residents meals around their outing and last but certainly not least, thanks to residents for taking part in an adventure that's out of the norm of everyday happenings. Twenty-two brave souls had a great time at the festival and they even said they would do it again. The next trip could be scheduled for as soon as August 24.

The Fundamentalist Revolt

Bruce B. Lawrence, professor of the history of religion at Duke University has written an interesting study of fundamentalists in a book, Defenders of God with the subtitle, The Fundamentalist Revolt Against The Modern Age. Lawrence indicated that journalists often write about Fundamentalists because of the "fear, awe, and ridicule that they evoke in the minds of modern readers." "They are either religious fanatics, extremists, obscurantist, dangerous men out of kilter with our age and its values, or they are paragons of virtue and defenders of the faith, self-declared renegades from a secular, moral, and pluralistic society."

Lawrence properly identifies Fundamentalism as a scripture based ideology rather than a theology. He said, "Religious ideology arises out of scripture . . . Religious ideology is textually based before it is contextually elaborated and enacted." Born at the turn of the century in a fight against creeping rationalism within the church, the clarion cry of Fundamentalists was "Explain and expose." One definition quoted by Lawrence said, "historic fundamentalism is the literal exposition of all the affirmations and attitudes of the Bible and the militant exposure of all non-Biblical affirmations and attitudes." (The Bible says it best, "Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine." (2 Tim. 4:2).

Lawrence indicated that Fundamentalists may be "underprivileged or marginalized" by the enlightened, secular elite who seek to rule "a homogeneous global community." The sharpest ideological litmus test of Christian fundamentalism according to Lawrence is Bible creationism as opposed to evolution. Other moral issues include opposition to abortion, euthanasia, suicide, sex perversion, pornography, alcohol and drug abuse, communism, vandalism, violence, etc.

Lawrence sees Fundamentalists as moderns, but not modernists. As moderns they accept the technical efficiency of the High Tech Era for the instrumental good of all society, while opposing the moral relativism of modernists which results in amoral and immoral attitudes and actions which Fundamentalists believe are corrupting and destroying society within. Lawrence does not believe Fundamentalism, as a religious ideology, will go away. As a social scientist he is trying to encourage objective study of them. He has indicated Fundamentalists must challenge the smug intellectual elite of America and Europe if they are to make a lasting impact on society into the 21st century. Reading Lawrence brought Luke 16:8 to mind: "for the children of this world are in their generation wiser than the children of light." Calvary Baptist Church of Grayling is not ashamed of the title, Fundamentalist.

TIME WELL SPENT

"If I could save time in a bottle . . ."

The wish expressed in the lyrics of this song is often shared by most of us. No, we cannot harness time. The minutes and the days pass surely and swiftly by, like sand in an hourglass.

Yet, unlike the sand in the hourglass, we cannot invert the flow of time and begin anew. We cannot turn back time and "do it over," but we can use our time wisely by learning from all of our experiences and "do it better" the next time.

The only true failure is the one from which we do not learn and grow. There is a Latin phrase which, when translated, means "Through adversity to the stars." Thus, not a moment of our lives, even the less pleasurable moments, need ever be time wasted.

There is one sure way in which we may spend our time wisely. Each Sabbath, attend your chosen house of worship. Time with God is always time well spent.

MR. HEFFELSNOOT: Thanks for putting up with me in your high school math class last year. I wish I had paid more attention though. I'm attending the university now and it is expensive! Had I applied the math you taught me I could have saved a lot of dough. I wish I had chosen to go to Kirtland—tuition and fees there cost about $1,200 per year. As it is, my mom and dad are scrimping to help me and I'll have big loans to pay off when I finish. From now on make sure you include a lesson in "financing for college" in your class. Rodney. Government Action

Crawford County Road Commission July 8, 1991 Minutes

A regular meeting of the Crawford County Road Commission was held in their office in Grayling. Present were: Chairman Norman Parker, Commissioner Kenneth Chapp, Engineer-Manager Richard Young, Accounting Clerk Joanne Thompson, Chairman of Roads & Bridges Lee Riley, Nancy Kirby, Attorney David Sabin, Grant Trigger, Mark Schostak, Norma Naour, and Dave Skrocki. Absent: Commissioner Clyde Anthony.

The minutes of the previous meeting of June 21, 1991, were read. Chairman Parker made a motion to accept the minutes, seconded by Commissioner Chapp. All voted in favor, minutes approved.

Payroll Voucher Number 14 in the amount of $30,010.49 and Material checks numbered 18850 through 18873 in the amount of $16,918.27 were ratified.

Pick up truck bid opening was at 10:03 with only one bid received from Scheer Motors. The result is as follows:

1992 Chevrolet (gas engine)	$14,090.95
1992 Chevrolet (diesel engine)	$15,406.75
1992 Dodge (gas engine)	$13,435.00
Trade in of #3	$1,700.00
Trade in of #9	$1,700.00
Air Conditioning option add	$684.25

The Board will review the bids later in the meeting and make a decision.

Nancy Kirby appeared before the Board regarding easement widths near Summit Avenue in Grayling Township. The Board and Engineer-Manager have inspected the areas in question and it will take approximately thirty days to rectify the problems.

A lengthy discussion was held with Mark Schostak, Dave Skrocki, Norma Naour, Grant Trigger, and the Board regarding the sale of the old road commission building and any contamination on the site. The Department of Natural Resources is reviewing test results; the results would be back in approximately forty-five days.

Commissioner Chapp made a motion to have a short closed door session with Attorney Sabin. Chairman Parker seconded.

Doors were opened, everyone returned. Attorney Sabin's opinion was to give King Venture another extension until September 16, 1991, due to the time frame of Water Resource Committee and DNR with a Class B cleanup proposed.

Correspondence was received from the Crawford County Fairground, Environmental Solutions, Inc., congressman Robert Davis, City Manager Jerry Morford, and the Genesee County Board of Commissioners.

Rick Davis, member of the Crawford County Fairgrounds, approached the Board regarding the volunteering the labor and equipment from the Road Commission. The Board tabled this matter until information regarding liability is received.

Commissioner Chapp informed the Board of various roads that need some work. Engineer Manager Young is to check into this matter. The pickup bids were reviewed at this time with the Board asking input from mechanic Cliff Henderlong and Jeff McClain. It was then decided to award the bid to Scheer Motors for two of the Chevrolet diesel pickups, with air conditioning, minus the trade in for a total of $14,391.00 each. A purchase order is to be made out.

Discussion was held on the County Road 612 project and the Michigan Association of Counties. The fuel system at the new building needs brought up to legal code. Engineer-Manager Young has requested a meeting with the architect, the general contractor and the mechanical contractor be scheduled for July 10, 1991.

A request was received to allow CETA workers to conduct roadside cleanup on primary and local roads. After discussion it was decided to allow cleanup if the group fills out a regular county road right-of-way permit with the proper insurance coverage. This shall be a trial period extending to December 31, 1991.

A motion was made and seconded to adjourn. All voted in favor, meeting adjourned. Joanne Thompson-Accounting Clerk Norman L. Parker-Chairman

Crawford County Road Commission July 10, 1991 Minutes

A special meeting was held this date with Commissioner Kenneth Chapp, Engineer-Manager Richard Young, Accounting Clerk Joanne Thompson, Rick Klumph from Central Michigan Electric, Inc., Terry Dudley from D & W Mechanical and Gordon Mead from Goodin & Bigelow in attendance to address the issue of the new Road Commission building mainly the fuel system construction.

The discussion was opened by Engineer-Manager Young to Gordon Mead by stating that there has been a fuel spill noticed on June 24, 1991, and inquired when the fuel tank pumps were installed. Mr. Young started employment at the road commission January 2, 1991. Mr. Mead stated that the tanks were installed before January 1st and his main jobs were completed by December 25, 1990.

It was noted that since January 1, 1991, changes in the laws have occurred pertaining to underground tanks installed in that a licensed company must do the work and to also be inspected by the State Fire Marshall which was not the case in 1990.

Mr. Young stated that the fuel leak was detected when Northern Pump was installing pipes to the tanks. It was noted that the fuel system was not constructed as per the specifications drawn up by D. Basil of R. S. Scott & Associates along with Bay Shore Engineering. The Board also discussed earlier that the extra cost of proper installation and now clean up costs should not be the burden of the Road Commission.

Gordon Mead, Goodin & Bigelow synopsis: Feels that if the Road Commission is unhappy with the setting of tanks and fuel pumps from D & W Mechanical and Central Michigan Electric it should have been noted in the Construction manual issued by D. Basil of R. S. Scott & Associates to state particular people to do certain aspects of the contract and considers the architect and the Electric company partially responsible. He noted that on the drawings it stated actual part numbers for certain parts needed which was prepared by Larry Monigold of Bay Shore Engineering.

Terry Dudley, S & W Mechanical synopsis: Worked off the drawing specifications due to the fact that nothing was mentioned in the Construction Manual and feels his company has done what was required. As progress continued he stated that plans were changed with the previous Engineer-Manager somewhat but had not written verifications with him to show. Feels that errors were made on the specifications and inspection of tanks. Asked Mr. Young what else is needed in his view and will work out the fill tube problem soon. Mr. Young stated suction lines are needed to the tanks, need syphon valves, vent pipes are sloped away from the tanks which could be due to frost in winter, and would like the regular gas tank to be able to be monitored by stick manually.

Rick Klumph, Central Michigan Electric, Inc., synopsis: Asked if the Road Commission has a list of all infractions noted when the tanks were torn down. Northern Tank has the list. Mr. Klumph mentioned that he had called the company for help for installation and the lack of parts but received little help. It was found out that the company had sold the equipment to Goodin & Bigelow but had purchased it from J. Daniel Ruppert. He contacted the Ruppert Company but still had little correspondence or telephone help. At one point he was told to install one conduit then re-instructed he was to have down three conduits which they failed to send to him. Mr. Keir put the project on hold for while until the Board decided on which key system to purchase. Inquired of Mr. Young as to the cost breakdown of the repairs and that he guarantees his work.

Engineer-Manager Young and Commissioner Chapp: Cost is unsure at this point in time. So far approximately 33 yards of contaminated soil has been taken to Cedar Ridge Recycling Center in Charlevoix at a cost of about $900.00, will need permanent monitoring wells for an unlimited amount of time to check for further contamination of soil and ground water. Cost of materials is unknown as there are galvanized water lines installed instead of fuel grade, no anti syphon valves, over fill protection needed, positive shut offs, fill tube changes, also even if this qualifies under the MUSTFA the Road Commission has to pay the first $10,000.

End Result: Gordon Mead, Terry Dudley, and Rick Klumph felt they should have been contacted as soon as the fuel leak was discovered and that the tanks should not have been removed until they could inspect for themselves if anyone was in error of installation. Mr. Young and Commissioner Chapp were asked exactly what they expected. They stated that they want the system brought up to code, as of the date of installation and a total clean up at no cost to the Road Commission. The Road Commission will update the fuel system to code as of the changes on January 1, 1991. Commissioner Chapp informed them that they will be meeting with Bay Shore Engineering, and Doug Basil of R. S. Scott & Associates to discuss the Board's feelings with them and will be in contact and thanked them all for attending this meeting. Joanne Thompson-Accounting Clerk Norman L. Parker-Chairman

LANDMARK RE-OPENS IN GRAYLING

Wharf's Restaurant the "Dinner Bell" in 1949 was one of the best places to eat in Grayling. Today the tradition continues as Hodder's Dinner Bell celebrates their Grand Opening. Owners, Marcy and Jerry Hodder are pleased that so many of their customers have fond memories of the first Dinner Bell.

Originally from Bay City, the Hodders first became familiar with Grayling when they camped and canoed here with their six children. Jerry Hodder is retired from the Michigan National Guard and has spent many summers training at Camp Grayling. It was always their dream to retire in Grayling although, Marcy admits that she's not ready to retire, so the restaurant was a natural decision for her. Owning a restaurant has always been Marcy's dream.

Today, even with the completely remodeled kitchen and country theme dining room, the restaurant has an atmosphere of being right at home. Perhaps it is because several members of the staff at Hodder's Dinner Bell are related. Mom and Dad are the owners and two sons and a daughter-in-law help in the kitchen. Even the waitresses that aren't related to the Hodders are still treated like family — and you will be too. Just recently Jerry Hodder was asked if they allow morning "coffee club tables." His response was "every table at the Dinner Bell is a coffee table where friends can meet."

So, come on home. Hodder's Dinner Bell is open for business Monday through Sunday 6 a.m. to 9 p.m., and Friday and Saturday nights until 11 p.m. With a traditional Family Style Menu offering daily specials and fresh desserts, Hodder's is located on the I-75 business Loop North of Grayling across from the airport.
